

Net Tangible Assets & Monthly Investment Report

31 MAY 2018

Company commentary

- Financial holdings down amid both global and Asia-specific negative factors.
- Malaysian satellite TV is shaken up, while higher energy demand benefits Chinese infrastructure stocks.

The portfolio's financial holdings were the largest detractor to performance over the month, falling in line with negative moves in the sector globally. Banks were affected by uncertainty surrounding Italy's place in the European Union, while in the Asian region they were also affected by heightened risk around regional trade which would be most detrimental to export led economies such as Korea. Accordingly, our Korean bank holdings, KB Financial Group and Shinhan Financial Group declined -15% and -8% respectively.

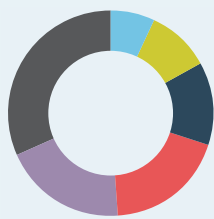

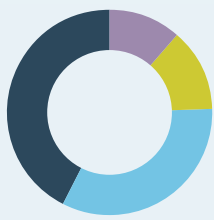

Malaysian satellite TV and radio operator Astro Malaysia fell -27% due to the surprise general election result that saw a change of government for the first time since the foundation of Malaysia in 1957. The newly elected Pakatan Harapan ('Alliance of Hope') coalition has called for a review of Astro Malaysia's monopoly position in the satellite TV industry. We consider the share price correction to be an overreaction and do not expect serious competition from new satellite players. We therefore consider current valuations to be attractive.

Chinese oil and gas infrastructure holdings Singapore Kantons and Kunlun Energy advanced +13% and +6% respectively during the month, with Kantons benefiting from strong momentum in oil imports and Kunlun seeing a rise in natural gas demand.

Our experience has shown us that while the market is largely efficient, it can, and regularly does, misprice a small proportion of companies. Our unique process is based on scanning the world for those companies (hence the radar in our logo), discovering the associated valuation anomalies and extracting value from them. We buy good businesses at a good price; businesses that we believe are being valued differently to their long term intrinsic value, but will return to their correct value over time.

Why the PM Capital Asian Opportunities Fund Limited?
